Making Diversity Work

Unconscious bias, practical solutions, and high performing teams – what do you need to know?

In line with the Association's Channeling Change program, this Diversity and Inclusion seminar will focus on practical tips and experience on best practice inclusion for high performing teams.

The session will draw upon deep research into the topic of diversity in teams and dive into practical examples from across the industry.

It's a must-attend event for people working in teams, and those wanting to be the best that they can in their professional careers.
