

Consent Form for Students in National Water Week 2020 Short Film Competition

The National Water Week Short Film Competition is run by the Australian Water Association and is open to all primary and high school students across Australia. The short film competition asks students to reimagine how they can use and reuse water to ensure there's enough of it in the future.

Submitted short film entries may be shared across the Australian Water Association's digital platforms for promotional and educational purposes. Digital platforms include websites (www.awa.asn.au; <https://watersource.awa.asn.au/>); social media (LinkedIn, Twitter, Facebook, etc.); and online video platforms (YouTube, etc.)

This form must be signed by the parent/legal guardian and teacher of any student/s involved in making a submission, as well as by the parent or legal guardian of any additional student who appears in the film but is not one of the students making the submission.
