Why should organisations join?

- WICD brings together a diverse industry to share information and collaborate on projects and issues that would otherwise be difficult for any one organisation to address alone.
- WICD Subscribers receive enormous benefits in terms of pooled expertise, knowledge, and in kind support from collaborating together on WICD projects and issues of importance for the water industry.
- Subscribers can influence the national agenda regarding issues such as capacity building and raising the profile of the water industry. WICD Subscribers also receive considerable benefit from pooling resources, expertise and funding
- Inclusion in quarterly teleconferences and newsletters in addition to ad hoc news only for Subscribers
- Networking and professional development events on a biennial basis including a Conference and Forum
